

LADIES AID SOCIETY.

Holds An All Day Session, Preparatory To Giving Christmas Bazar.

Probably the most enthusiastic and profitable and yet distinctly social session of any ladies organization ever held in the country, was the all day session of the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church. This meeting was on Friday, November 22, at the home of the pastor and his good wife, Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Brazelton. The ladies began to arrive promptly at nine o'clock, carrying with them garments and material of many shapes and hues, which were to take form on that day. Three sewing machines were in readiness and were kept "humming" from early until late, making a pleasant accompaniment to interesting conversations.

The ladies were not so interested, however, that they forgotful of the noon day meal and each had brought something to tempt the appetite. Mrs. Long and Mrs. McGary had charge of this department and called to their assistance a few others who joined with the hostess in preparing the "spread." Three tables, containing covers for twenty-five were laid and presented a beautiful and happy scene when the ladies were all in their places. The dinner was served in three courses and consisted of all the delicacies of the season that could be quickly prepared.

Aside from many of the regular members a number of the ladies of the church who are kept away on account of other duties, were present and enjoyed the feast of good things. Mrs. Ida Walker, of Madisonville and Mrs. W. F. Bun were also with their old friends again.

After dinner others began to arrive and work was resumed with renewed zeal. At the close of the day twenty-five garments were finished and many others were taken to the various homes for completion. These, with many other useful and dainty articles will be for sale at the bazaar on Thursday, December 12.

The guests began to depart about five o'clock, all feeling that it was a privilege to spend a day in the hospitable and happy home of Mr. and Mrs. Brazelton.

Dismal Prospects.

"There are 118 presidential post-offices in Kentucky," says the Warsaw Independent, "and it must be an all fired popular job, as about 11,898 applicants for the 118 jobs are already in the field," and the misfortune of it is that a lot of these Republican postmasters have anywhere from one to three years of their terms remaining and it is exceedingly likely that many of them will be permitted to serve out their time in power. What a dismal prospect when the woods are full of hungry Democrats who haven't been insight of a piece of pie for sixteen long years.

Forrester—Johnston.

Miss Grace Forrester of this city and Mr. C. W. Johnston at Louisville, Ky., were married in Henderson Wednesday afternoon at the Hotel Henderson. Miss Forrester is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Forrester of this city and is a charming and popular young lady. Mr. Johnston is engaged in the drug business in Louisville Ky. and is a rising young business man. The young couple left Henderson Wednesday night for Louisville where they will make their future home. The many friends of the young bride wish her a long life of happiness.

The Turkish Exodus.

War correspondents say the Turkish population is fleeing en masse before the Bulgarian Army, leaving the country behind them uninhabited. No movement like this has taken place since the Middle Ages. A correspondent says, "This headlong flight of the population eastward and southward is no ordinary fugitive's flight from home scenes to which they will return. There is and has been for a week no one beyond Teheran. The hordes seem to have fallen back towards Constantinople by instinct. Their villages have all been burned and they will erect villages on the other side of the Bosphorus."

In view of the foregoing, and in view of the way the flower of the Turkish Army was mowed down by the Bulgarians, it is small wonder that many think the hand of God is in the disruption of European Turkey. The driving of the Turks beyond the Bosphorus may mean, however, a period of rest and reconstruction to Palestine and other portions of Asiatic Turkey while the nations of Europe are engaged in a death struggle over the spoils she has left. If this be so, what a wonderful incentive it is to all Jews to leave Europe and return to their native land!

In Gen. 17:8 God promised Abraham "All the land of Canaan for an everlasting possession." In Gen. 15:18 this everlasting title covers "from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates." In Gen. 35:12 the deed was confirmed to Jacob. Gen. 23:1 and 37:1 agree that Abraham and Jacob, during their lifetimes, were strangers in the land which they and their posterity are yet to have "for an everlasting possession." (Gen. 48:4).

How unreasonable God would have been to tell Abraham to "Lift up now thine eyes and look from the place where thou art northward and southward and eastward and westward, for all the land which thou seest to thee will I give it and to thy seed forever" (Gen. 13:14;15.) If neither Abraham, nor his posterity are ever to come into possession of the land!

The Wandering Jew.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrester

Entertain At Dinner.

Quite a number of friends were invited to partake of a delicious dinner at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Forrester of this city. The table groaned under its enormous load of good things to eat and drink. Mrs. Forrester is a splendid hostess and it is unnecessary to say the entire party had a lovely time. After dinner the several games were indulged in and the entire afternoon passed off pleasantly.

Carl Slaton's House Burns.

Carl Slaton, a well known citizen of Mortons Gap, had the misfortune to lose his home by fire Thursday afternoon. Mr. Slaton was out killing hogs and there was no one in the house except his wife and one child who was ill with typhoid fever. Mr. Slaton looked up and saw the roof in flames. Every effort was made to extinguish the flames but to no avail. The house was burned to the ground and a large portion of the household goods were lost.

Property Changes Hands.

Mr. J. H. Fish has purchased the Jno. Rule home place on Main St. and will move in soon. Mr. Rule will move to the O'Bannon place. The house purchased by Mr. Fish is one of the most desirable homes in the city.

Chas. Treumpey Entertains.

Chas. Treumpey, one of our well known Jewelers, entertained a party of friends at Nixon's restaurant last night at supper. The jolly bunch enjoyed the well cooked viands and spent a pleasant hour in this first class cafe.

Kept the Walters Busy.

A party of tourists which recently traveled over a Canadian railroad continuously for five days was served during that time, on the dining cars, with 860 meals daily or 2,580 meals in all. This was done on two standard dining cars, each having a seating capacity of thirty persons and managed by one conductor, four cooks and five waiters. At this rate each waiter served at each meal an average of twenty-two persons, and each chair would be used an average of three and two-thirds times at each meal.—Railway Age Gazette.

MINES ARE UNABLE TO OBTAIN RAILROAD CARS.

Ohio County Coal Diggers Appeal To The Governor For Assistance.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 27.—Owing to the failure of railroads to provide sufficient cars for the shipment of coal mined in Ohio County, the miners and their families, numbering about 5,000 are on the verge of suffering and have appealed to Governor McCreary for assistance. A communication addressed to Governor McCreary and signed by R. O. Vance, L. E. Herrel, S. T. Mann, Ohas. Mullikin, G. P. Fields, G. W. McFarland, and A. T. Davis, representing the miners of Ohio County, has been turned over to the Railroad Commission for investigation and the matter will be considered by the commission at the December 4 meeting. The commission states that for the last eighteen months the miners have averaged only $10 a month; that they appealed to the coal mine owners and operators for more work, and they in turn stated that the miners would be given sufficient work if they could get railroad cars to ship their product in. The operators claim that they have on hand large contracts, but are unable to fill them on account of the failure of the railroad companies to furnish cars.

Governor McCreary in replying to the appeal stated that he had no jurisdiction in the matter, but had turned the letter over to the Railroad Commission with the request that the conditions in Ohio County be investigated.

Hyde Breaks the Record

On Thursday night the 28th, Ernest Hyde, a machine runner in the Hecla mine of the St. Bernard group, broke all records for that mine and, so far as we are informed, for this county as well. With a Morgan-Gardner chain breast machine, he cut a total of 283 feet on this shift. This is indeed a record of which to be proud, and demonstrates that some of the best men in the country are employed in the local mines.

Our Christmas Number.

The Bee is preparing to get out the greatest Christmas paper in its history. For the past ten years we have excelled all papers in this section in size of paper, character of specially illustrated matter, Christmas stories by leading writers and page after page of live and attractive advertising by our local merchants who have long since learned how to reach the buying public.

The beautiful colored cover, designed by a special artist will delight the young folks and receive the commendation it will deserve from the parents.

Our solicitors will be around soon to interview the merchants and give them an opportunity to reserve choice space positions in this, our biggest and best Christmas number yet printed.

Joe Blackburn Mentioned.

It is strongly rumored in political circles says the Louisville Times, that former United States Senator Jo O. S. Blackburn, of Woodford county, is the "dark horse" referred to in the race for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator at the next August State wide primary. Some astute politicians regard Senator Blackburn as a sure starter. They say the veteran Democratic leader has recently expressed himself as being in his old-time form and not averse to entering the lists for the toga. Senator Blackburn has always had a large following and make it very interesting for his opponents, his friends say.

Facts Without Bias Not Libelous.

United States Judge Frank Yonmans at Texarkana, Tex., issued peremptory instructions to the jury in the case of Mack Chandler versus J. L. Cannon and Luke Pearre, proprietors of the De Queen Bee of De Queen, Ark., to return a verdict for the defendants and thereby framed a decision of vital interest to newspaper publishers.

Ohandler entered suit against the De Queen newspaper men for $15,000, claimed as damages by reason of the publication of an alleged libelous article. In the "story" it was stated that Chandler had been arrested on a charge of burglary, a description of the manner in which the entrance was effected and a statement that the place had been entered upon several occasions also appearing in the article. It afterward developed that Ohandler was charged with receiving stolen goods, and he was exonerated.

In instructing a verdict for the defendants Judge Yonmans said he disliked to give peremptory instructions to a jury, but that his conscience would not permit him to let a judgement against the defendants stand.

The judge held that a newspaper is justified in printing facts without bias.

Judge Yonmans held that the statement of the boy's arrest was one of fact, and he reviewed briefly the testimony showing that Chandler had been arrested and that some of the stolen goods had been found in his possession. He intimated that Ohandler must have suspected that the articles he purchased did not come to the vendor in a legitimate way because Ohandler hid them in the barn.

What he Prayed For

Ed Arnold For County Court Clerk.

Ed Arnold of Madisonville announces in this issue of the Bee as a candidate for the office of County Court Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Arnold authorizes us to say he wants the support of the Democratic voters of Earlington as well as all other voters in the county and will appreciate all favors shown him no matter how small. He is a life long democrat and is well and favorably known all over Hopkins county. In the event of his nomination which is tantamount to his election he promises to try and do the greatest good for the greatest number and do his duty by the whole people.

Sayings From John Burroughs. Nature is not benevolent; nature is just, gives pound for pound, measure for measure, makes no exception, never tempers her decrees with mercy or winks at any infringement of her laws. And in the end is not this best? Could the universe be run as a charity or a benevolent institution, or as a poorhouse of the most approved pattern? Without this merciless justice, this irrefragable law, where would we have brought up long ago? It is a hard gospel; but rocks are hard, too, yet they form the foundations of the hills. Man introduces benevolence, mercy, altruism, into the world, and he pays the price in his added burdens; and he reaps his reward in the vast social and civic organizations that were impossible without these things.—Century.

What Shall We Do With Our Ex-Presidents.

"Banish them to the Senate," says Mr. Bryan, "without a vote, but surrounded by more enemies than friends."

Mr. Roosevelt says: "Do nothing with them nor for them. Let them take care of themselves." Mr. Taft proposes to follow the Roosevelt rule, and go back to work to earn a living.

In this connection it is well to consider what has happened to our ex-Presidents.

Washington died at the age of sixty-seven, about two years after his retirement from office.

Adams lived twelve years after his retirement from office.

any other President, ninety years old, and survived his retirement twenty-five years.

Jefferson lived to be eighty-three years old, and lived seven years after he left the White House.

Madison died at the age of eighty-five years, nineteen years after his term expired.

Monroe lived to be seventy-three years old, dying six years after he left the White House.

John Quincy Adams lived nineteen years after the expiration of his Presidential term, dying at the age of eighty.

Jackson, after serving two terms, lived eight years, dying at the age of seventy-eight.

Van Buren survived his public service twenty-one years. He died at the age of seventy-nine.

Harrison died in office at the age of sixty, but Tyler lived sixteen years after his stormy administration, dying at the age of seventy-one.

Polk died three months after his retirement from the Presidency at the comparatively early age of fifty-three, the youngest of any President dying out of office.

Taylor died in office at the age of sixty-five, Fillmore succeeding him, lived twenty-one years after his retirement, dying at the age of seventy-four.

Pierce lived twelve years as ex-President, dying at the age of sixty-four.

Buchanan retired from office at the age of seventy, and lived seven years thereafter.

Lincoln was slain in office at the age of fifty-six. Johnson succeeded Lincoln and lived six years after his retirement from the Presidency, dying at the age of sixty-six.

After Grant served two terms he made his great trip around the world and was a candidate for the Republican nomination, lived eight years after his retirement and died at the age of sixty-three.

Hayes lived twelve years after the expiration of his term as President and died at the age of seventy.

Garfield was killed while in office at the age of forty-nine, the earliest age at which any President died. Arthur succeeded him, served out his term and lived one year thereafter, dying at the age of fifty-six years.

Cleveland lived seven years after the expiration of his Presidential services, dying at the age of seventy-one.

Benjamin Harrison, served four years, was a candidate for re-election, was beaten, lived four years after his retirement and died at the age of sixty-seven.

McKinley was slain in office at the age of fifty-eight.

Mr. Roosevelt, after serving seven years as President, retired and spent the succeeding four years in world wide activities.

It seems from these figures, therefore, that the average term of life for an ex-President is 11.2 years. The average age at death of men who have served as President was 69.2.

Practical Aid for the Poor. Miss Elizabeth Ross has been appointed manager of the household service office, which has just been established in Jamaica Plain, Mass., by the Women's Municipal League. The enterprise is patterned after the Brattleboro Mutual Aid Association, a neighborhood service which affords mutual aid for the sick. The plan is to furnish at cost competent nurses, to educate people along sanitary lines and to furnish employment for women and girls competent as household helpers.

MS. of Home, Sweet Home. The original manuscript of "Home, Sweet Home," is said to have been buried in the grave with Miss Harry Harden of Athens, Ga. She was John Howard Payne's sweetheart, but refused to marry him in deference to her father's wishes. After she was separated from her lover she shut herself in the old family mansion, seeing none but a few members of the little church to which she belonged.—From the Independent.

Rochester, N. Y.—"I have a daughter 13 years old who has always been very healthy until recently when she complained of dizziness and cramps every month, so bad that I would have to keep her home from school and put her to bed to get relief.

"After giving her only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she is now enjoying the best of health. I cannot praise your Compound too highly. I want every good mother to read what your medicine has done for my child."—Mrs. RICHARD N. DUNHAM, 311 Exchange St., Rochester, N. Y.

Stoutsville, Ohio.—"I suffered from headaches, backache and was very irregular. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of two bottles I found relief. I am only sixteen years old, but I have better health than for two or three years.

I cannot express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had taken other medicines but did not find relief."—Miss CORA B. FOSNAUGH, Stoutsville, Ohio, R.F.D., No. 1.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for their daughters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Wise Scotch Laddie. A Scotch lad had his leg injured at a factory, and was treated for some time by the doctor without much favorable result. His mother had great faith in a local bone-setter, and wanted her son to go to him; but the boy objected, preferring, as he said, the "reg'lar faculty." Finally, however, he yielded to his mother's persuasions and was taken to the town where the famous bone-setter resided. The leg was duly examined, and it was found necessary to pull it very severely, in order "to get the bone in," as the quack expressed it. The patient howled in agony, but at last the bone was "got in," and he was bidden to go home. "In a few days he would be all right, and could resume work."

"Didn't he do it well?" said the joyous old lady, as they started homeward. "Yes, he did, mother," said the lad; "he pulled it well; but I was na sic a fool as to gie him the sair leg!"

Humorous Court Happenings.

Judge M. W. Pinckney at a recent banquet of lawyers responded with two stories to show that there is some humor associated with such a serious thing as the law. In Dawson City a colored man, Sam Jones by name, was on trial for felony. The judge asked Sam if he desired the appointment of a lawyer to defend him. "No, sah," said Sam. "Ise gwine to throw myself on the ignorance of the cote."

Here is a story credited to O'Connell, and illustrating the severe penalty imposed, under the old criminal law of England as well as the "grew" humor of the early English judge. The jury had returned a verdict of guilty in the case of a man accused of stealing a valuable watch. The judge in sentencing the prisoner, said, "You reached for time and found eternity."

What's a Friend?

Appropos of gratitude, a prominent politician gave the other day a very amusing definition of a friend. "A friend," he said, "is a man who takes your part against all your enemies, sticks to you through all your adversities, lends you his last dollar without security—and then, when fortune smiles on you at last, is content to take a back seat and keep out of the way."

Pay for What You See.

Theaters in Havana, according to an exchange, have a system by which patrons pay for a seat for one act, and, if pleased, pay for another act, and so on to the end of the performance. By this method a playgoer may keep on trying different theaters till he finds a play to his liking, and spend for his various "samples" only the price that he would pay for one ticket, according to our plan.

Write Ideas for Moving Picture Plays

YOU can write photo plays and earn $25. or more weekly.

WE WILL SHOW YOU HOW!

If you have ideas-- if you can THINK--we will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving Heaven and Earth" in their attempt to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100. and more, for single scenarios, or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure.

You Will Earn $100. Monthly For Spare Time

FREE Send your name and address at once for free copy of our illustrated book, "MOVING PICTURE PLAYWRITING"

Don't hesitate. Don't argue. Write now and learn just what this new profession may mean for you and your future.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICES HELD THURSDAY

At Christian Church. Rev. Grant Preached Splendid Sermon.

Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock union Thanksgiving services were held at the Christian church, Rev. W. A. Grant, of the M. E. Church South delivering the sermon, which was an able address. Those present seemed to enjoy the occasion thoroughly and a spirit of reverence and thanksgiving pervaded all through the services. Rev. Grant in his remarks touched largely upon our national gift and the singing of "America" served to impress upon all, their duty as citizens as well as Christians.

Antiquity of Hymns.

While hymns as we know them today are a comparatively recent innovation in church services, they are a very ancient institution and existed long before the Christian era. Many important collections of hymns date back to about five hundred years before Christ, though of course hymns existed long before that period. Among the collections, which have come down to us from then are the Sanskrit "Rig-Veda," a Chinese "Book of Odes," the "Buddhist Hymns," the Grecian "Homeric Hymns" and the "Odes of Pindar." "The Latin Hymns," or hymns of the western church, date from the fourth to the twelfth centuries, while the "Lutheran Chorales" date from the sixteenth century. The hymns which play so prominent a part in the services of the modern Protestant churches were not in wide general use until about 1860.—Eude.

Women as Plumbers.

From a note which appears in the columns of the Ironmonger it would appear that no fewer than 150 young women in New York are about to go to school to learn plumbing, carpentering and so forth. They seem to be thoroughly in earnest. The promoters of the school obtained $50,000 and the services of six teachers with scarcely any effort.

Urgs Farmers to Raise Fish.

"There are signs that the time is not far distant," said William E. Meehan, former state commissioner of fisheries and present director of the public aquarium in Fairmount park, "when farmers will consider fish culture as important a part of their calling as the raising of grain or potatoes or poultry. When that day arrives the fish industry of Pennsylvania will rank as high as any other industry. There are few farms in Pennsylvania without springs, a stream and swampy land of which no use is made and upon which the farmer pays taxes without any return. Most of the streams and the springs and the swamp land could be utilized for the rearing of fish. Under intelligent care an otherwise useless piece of wet land can be made to yield as much, acre for acre, as the most fertile land." — Philadelphia North American.

CASS L. WALKER

The announcement of Cass L. Walker for superintendent of schools brings before the democratic voters of the county a strong character for their consideration. He is a self-made young man of high moral character, and is possessed of untiring energy. He sold papers on the streets of Madisonville when a mere boy for a livelihood and worked his way through college. He is a graduate from the Valparaiso University, one of the strongest universities in the United States, and holds several degrees from this institution, and also holds a state certificate in this state and is considered one of the leading educators of the county. If the democratic voters should see proper to choose Mr. Walker as their standard bearer he would make a strong man on the ticket. Being an excellent speaker of unusual ability he would be a great factor in rolling up an old time majority next November.
